

The Resilient Kitchen, Transition Ottawa presents:

Homemade Seasonal Arrangements

with

Corrie Rabbe

Wednesday, 4th December, 2013

6:30 pm - 8:30 pm

Making your own arrangements doesn't have to be scary, expensive or time consuming. Come and join us for a fun filled festive workshop! Corrie Rabbe returns to Resilient Kitchen for a third time to show you how to create attractive centrepieces, outdoor arrangements, and garlands using local and reused materials. Participants will have the opportunity to do some hands on arranging as a group.

While attending university, Corrie worked as a floral designer for over four years creating corsages, wedding bouquets and elaborate arrangements for special events. She left the floral industry for a career in the non-profit world, where she currently works. Corrie is also co-owner of local business Radical Homestead <http://radicalhomestead.ca> where she posts a weekly project blog, offers workshops on herbalism, fermentation and more; in addition to selling her jellies and honey. She volunteers as a community garden coordinator and is on the board of Transition Ottawa.

Location: 464 Metcalfe, CCOC Centretown Citizens Ottawa Corporation
(entry details upon RSVP)

Cost: Free, Donations are appreciated.

Registration: There is a limit of 25 participants for this workshop,

RSVP to: resilientkitchen@gmail.com

More information on our workshops:

<http://resilientkitchen.wordpress.com>

Find out more about Transition Ottawa:

<http://transitionottawa.ning.com/>

TRANSITION OTTAWA

Organized by Transition Ottawa

"Building community resilience in a changing world"

Resilient Kitchen gratefully acknowledges CCOC (Centretown Citizens Ottawa Corporation) for its support of the workshops.